What is a casual trader?
Casual traders get stalls day-to-day and have no contract. This is how everyone starts on the Market, and we keep 10% of our stalls for ‘casuals’. Rent is paid daily, by card.

What are the trading hours?
Summer trading hours are 10am-7pm for retail and 10am-8pm for street food.

When do casual traders need to arrive?
Causal traders must arrive by 9.30am and go straight to the Market Office.

What is the minimum I need to start trading?
We keep this as simple as possible. You will need...

For the stall:
\begin{itemize}
\item A white tarpaulin at least 2m x 2m and enough market clips to keep it in place.
\item A tablecloth that covers your stall, including the sides (so, at least 2m x 1m). Choose a good fabric that fits the theme of your stall.
\item A stall ‘skirt’. This is material to cover the front and sides of the stall, below the table. It covers your storage area, and can be used to display a sign. This skirt should be neat, tight and exactly 4.5m by 0.8m.
\item A debit or credit card to pay the rent. A manager will come to your stall at around midday to collect.
\item Your signage. This should be legible, eye-catching and in a good quality material.
\item A price list of your goods.
\item Your own lights and extension leads, with plug fittings: 16 amp commando if your stall is outside, standard 13 amp three pin if you are inside.
\end{itemize}
To register:
• Valid ID.
• Two forms of proof of address.
• Your registered company name (if it’s a limited company).
• Details of the business ownership (if it’s not a limited company or trading under your own name).

Do I need to bring a table?
No, we provide the stall frame and table.

Can I choose my space?
Sometimes, it depends on availability.

Are there stalls inside?
Yes, these are also assigned according to availability.

Can I play music on my stall?
Only if your stall sells music.

Can I get a regular stall?
Casual traders are considered for regular slots as they become available. Just let a market manager know if you’re keen.

Are there any restrictions on what I can sell?
You can’t sell the following:
• Alcohol
• Drugs
• Drug paraphernalia
• Rude or offensive products
• Fake goods

Do I need a license to trade?
No, this is a private site and you are covered by our trading license.

Do I need public liability insurance?
We advise all traders to have public liability insurance, but it is not a strict requirement.
What size are the stalls?
See the dimensions below:

Are there free toilets for traders?
Yes, see your trader’s handbook for more information.

Can I apply for storage?
Unfortunately, we don’t have the space.

Where can I buy electrical and market supplies?
These are good places to start:
• Electrical adapters: Screwfix, Toolstation, CEF.
• Market equipment: Ebay, Shopfittings Ltd, NMTF, Tarpaflex, Trader Supplies.
